(b) Following the expiration of the Lock-Up Period, Nextera may sell Consideration Shares, provided that Nextera shall not sell more than the greater of (i) 250,000 shares or (ii) ten percent (10%) of the then-outstanding Consideration Shares in any single calendar quarter, without the prior written consent of Meridian (not to be unreasonably withheld).

The Parties shall cooperate to allocate the Purchase Price among the Acquired IP in accordance with Section 1060 of the United States Internal Revenue Code and the Treasury Regulations thereunder. Such allocation shall be set forth in Schedule J, which shall be agreed upon by the Parties within sixty (60) days following the Closing Date. Each Party shall report the transactions contemplated by this Agreement for all Tax purposes in a manner consistent with such allocation and shall not take any position inconsistent therewith in any Tax Return, refund claim, litigation, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law.

ARTICLE 4 — REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF NEXTERA

Nextera represents and warrants to Meridian as of the Effective Date and as of the Closing Date as follows:

4.1 Organisation and Authority. Nextera is a company duly incorporated, validly existing, and in good standing under the laws of Ireland. Nextera has full corporate power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement, to perform its obligations hereunder, and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby.

4.2 Binding Obligation. This Agreement has been duly and validly executed and delivered by Nextera and constitutes the legal, valid, and binding obligation of Nextera, enforceable against Nextera in accordance with its terms, except as such enforceability may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, moratorium, reorganisation, or similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally and by general equitable principles.

4.3 Title to Acquired IP. Nextera is the sole and exclusive owner of the entire right, title, and interest in and to the Acquired IP, free and clear of all Encumbrances other than Permitted Encumbrances. No Person other than Nextera has any ownership interest in or to the Acquired IP. The consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement will not result in the loss or impairment of or payment of additional amounts with respect to, nor require the consent of any Person in respect of, Meridian's right to own or use any of the Acquired IP.

4.4 Validity and Enforceability of IP Rights.

(a) All Assigned Patents are subsisting and, to the Knowledge of Nextera, valid and enforceable. No Assigned Patent has been adjudged invalid or unenforceable in whole or in part by any court or governmental authority of competent jurisdiction, and no such action or proceeding is pending or, to the Knowledge of Nextera, threatened.

(b) All required maintenance fees, annuities, and renewal fees for the Assigned Patents have been paid when due, and all necessary documents have been filed with the relevant patent offices for the purpose of maintaining the Assigned Patents.

(c) Schedule A sets forth a complete and accurate list of all Assigned Patents, including for each: the patent or application number, the title, the jurisdiction, the filing date, the issue date (if applicable), and the current status.

4.5 Non-Infringement.

(a) To the Knowledge of Nextera, the conduct of the Business as currently conducted does not infringe, misappropriate, or otherwise violate the Intellectual Property Rights of any third party.

(b) No claim, action, suit, proceeding, or investigation is pending or, to the Knowledge of Nextera, threatened against Nextera alleging that the Acquired IP or the conduct of the Business infringes, misappropriates, or otherwise violates the Intellectual Property Rights of any third party.

(c) To the Knowledge of Nextera, no third party is infringing, misappropriating, or otherwise violating any of the Acquired IP.

4.6 Software Assets.

(a) The Software Assets operate in material conformity with their documentation and specifications. Nextera has maintained commercially reasonable version control, change management, and quality assurance practices with respect to the Software Assets.

(b) The Software Assets do not contain any virus, worm, Trojan horse, malware, or other malicious code. The Software Assets do not contain any undisclosed "back door," "time bomb," "drop dead device," or other software routine designed to permit unauthorised access to, or to disable or erase, the Software Assets or any data processed thereby.

(c) Schedule G sets forth a complete and accurate list of all Open Source Materials incorporated in, linked to, or distributed with the Software Assets, including the applicable licence for each item. No Open Source Material has been incorporated into the Software Assets in a manner that would require Meridian to disclose, license, or distribute the source code of the Software Assets or any portion thereof, or that would otherwise impose any obligation or restriction on Meridian's Exploitation of the Software Assets beyond those set forth in such Open Source Materials' licences.

4.7 Training Data.

(a) Nextera has all necessary rights, licences, consents, and permissions to use, process, and transfer the Training Data as contemplated by this Agreement. The collection, use, and processing of the Training Data has been conducted in compliance with all applicable data protection and privacy laws, including the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 ("GDPR") and the California Consumer Privacy Act ("CCPA").

(b) The Training Data does not include any personal data (as defined under the GDPR) except as specifically identified in Schedule D, and all such personal data has been collected with valid consent or another lawful basis for processing, and may be transferred to Meridian in compliance with applicable data transfer mechanisms.

(c) To the Knowledge of Nextera, the Training Data does not contain any data that was obtained through web scraping, data mining, or other automated collection methods in violation of any applicable terms of service, licence agreement, or law.

4.8 Employee and Contractor Assignments. Each current and former employee, consultant, contractor, and agent of Nextera who has contributed to the development, creation, or improvement of any Acquired IP has executed a valid and enforceable written agreement assigning all of his or her rights in such Acquired IP to Nextera, and no such Person has retained any rights in or to the Acquired IP.

4.9 No Conflicts. The execution, delivery, and performance of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby do not and will not: (a) violate or conflict with the certificate of incorporation, articles of association, or other organisational documents of Nextera; (b) violate or conflict with any applicable law, regulation, order, or decree; or (c) result in any breach of, or constitute a default (or an event which, with notice or lapse of time, would constitute a default) under, or result in the termination of, or accelerate the performance required by, or result in a right of termination or acceleration under, any contract, agreement, or instrument to which Nextera is a party or by which Nextera or the Acquired IP is bound.

4.10 Litigation. There is no action, suit, proceeding, claim, arbitration, or investigation pending or, to the Knowledge of Nextera, threatened against Nextera relating to the Acquired IP. There is no judgment, decree, injunction, or order of any governmental authority outstanding against Nextera relating to the Acquired IP.

4.11 Tax Matters. There are no Tax liens on any of the Acquired IP. Nextera has timely paid all Taxes required to be paid in respect of the Acquired IP.

4.12 No Broker. Neither Nextera nor any of its Affiliates has employed any broker, finder, or investment banker in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement for which Meridian would be liable.

ARTICLE 5 — LICENCE-BACK TO NEXTERA

5.1 Grant of Licence. Effective upon the Closing, Meridian hereby grants to Nextera a non-exclusive, non-transferable (except as provided in Section 5.3), royalty-free, worldwide licence under the Licensed-Back Patents solely to:

(a) continue to operate Nextera's existing products and services as conducted immediately prior to the Closing Date (the "Retained Business"); and

(b) develop and commercialise improvements and updates to the Retained Business, provided that such licence shall not extend to any new products, services, or lines of business not within the scope of the Retained Business as conducted immediately prior to the Closing Date.

5.2 Limitations. The licence granted under Section 5.1 is:

(a) limited to the Licensed-Back Patents identified in Schedule B and does not extend to any other Acquired IP;

(b) non-sublicensable, except to third-party service providers of Nextera solely to the extent necessary for such providers to perform services for Nextera in connection with the Retained Business;

(c) subject to Nextera's compliance with the non-competition provisions of Article 7; and

(d) terminable by Meridian upon written notice if Nextera breaches any material obligation under this Agreement and fails to cure such breach within sixty (60) days after receipt of written notice thereof.

5.3 Assignment of Licence. Nextera may not assign the licence granted under this Article 5 without the prior written consent of Meridian, except in connection with a merger, consolidation, or sale of all or substantially all of the assets of Nextera's Retained Business, provided that the assignee agrees in writing to be bound by the terms and conditions of this Article 5.

5.4 No Implied Licences. Except as expressly set forth in this Article 5, no licence or immunity is granted by either Party to the other, by implication, estoppel, or otherwise, under any Intellectual Property Rights.

ARTICLE 6 — TRANSITION AND KNOWLEDGE TRANSFER

6.1 Transition Period. For a period of eighteen (18) months following the Closing Date (the "Transition Period"), Nextera shall provide Meridian with reasonable cooperation and assistance in connection with the transfer, integration, and Exploitation of the Acquired IP, including:

6.3 Technical Escrow. Within thirty (30) days following the Closing Date, Nextera shall deposit with Iron Mountain Intellectual Property Management, Inc. (or such other escrow agent as the Parties may agree) a complete and current copy of all source code, build scripts, compilation tools, documentation, and other materials necessary to independently build, compile, maintain, and operate the Software Assets (the "Technical Escrow Materials"). Such deposit shall be updated quarterly during the Transition Period.

ARTICLE 7 — NON-COMPETITION AND NON-SOLICITATION

7.1 Non-Competition. During the period commencing on the Closing Date and ending on the fourth (4th) anniversary thereof (the "Restricted Period"), Nextera shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates not to, directly or indirectly, engage in, invest in, own, manage, operate, finance, control, or participate in the ownership, management, operation, financing, or control of any business that develops, markets, sells, or licenses products or services that are competitive with the Acquired IP or the products and services of Meridian that incorporate the Acquired IP, in any jurisdiction worldwide (the "Restricted Activity"); provided, however, that:

(a) the foregoing shall not prohibit Nextera from owning, solely as a passive investor, less than five percent (5%) of the outstanding shares of any class of securities of a publicly traded company; and

(b) the foregoing shall not restrict Nextera from conducting the Retained Business in accordance with the licence-back granted under Article 5.

7.2 Non-Solicitation of Employees. 7.3 Non-Solicitation of Customers. During the Restricted Period, Nextera shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates not to, directly or indirectly, solicit, induce, or encourage any customer, supplier, or business partner of Meridian to terminate, reduce, or modify its business relationship with Meridian to the extent such relationship relates to the Acquired IP.

7.4 Enforceability. The Parties acknowledge and agree that the covenants contained in this Article 7 are reasonable and necessary to protect the legitimate business interests of Meridian. If any court of competent jurisdiction shall determine that any provision of this Article 7 is unenforceable because it is overbroad in scope, duration, or geographic area, such court shall have the power to reduce the scope, duration, or geographic area of such provision, and in its reduced form, such provision shall be enforceable.

ARTICLE 8 — CONFIDENTIALITY

8.1 Confidentiality Obligations. Each Party agrees that, during the term of this Agreement and for a period of seven (7) years following the Closing Date, it shall hold in strict confidence and not disclose to any third party, and shall not use for any purpose other than as expressly permitted under this Agreement, any Confidential Information of the other Party, using the same degree of care that the receiving Party uses to protect its own confidential information of a similar nature, but in no event less than reasonable care.
